INDIAN CRIME ATURDAY NIGHT

slored Child Victim of Attack By Strange Negro.

THEN MADE HIS ESCAPE

Trail Taken Up By Bloodhounds, But Lost It At The River.

An unknown negro man who had been seen during the day on First street, committed a criminal assault upon a little negro girl about 9 years old, between 7 and 8 o'clock Saturday night. The girl who is a daughter of I. Cross, who lives on Cottage street, was in the door of Jake Williams' grocery when the man came by and called the girl to him and told her he would give her a quarter to go with him and show him where Lula Clark lived at 307 N. Campbell street. He had been seen at the Clark woman's house that day, but she was not at home. The child says she went with him to the place and found the front door shut.

The man told her to go to the back door and followed her to the rear of the house where the crime was perpetrated. The negro made his escape and the child returned to the store and the alarm was given.

Lieut. Hawkins went to the scene with a bloodhound which took the trail and followed it to where the man crossed the river on the waterworks dam, where the trail was lost. Nothing more has been heard from him. He was a young negro, brown skinned, with a small mustache and wore a cap.

PROLIFIC SOW

Probably Hold's World's Record for Single Farrow.

A sow belonging to a farmer living about five miles East of the city recently farrowed twenty one pigs. One of the litter died shortly after its birth, but the other twenty are living and doing well. The sow is of ordinary stock, but she probably holds the world's record for the largest number of pigs farrowed in one litter.

His monoplane will in the meanwhile be constructed by a company and the Hopkinsville inventor will be ready to operate his own machine in the spring. The contractor who will perfect the model gives him the most positive assurance that it will fly whether the balancing device operates or not.

Mail Service Discontinued.

THE TOBACCO RUSH IS ON

Weed Will Pour in This Week in a Constant Stream.

FACTORIES OPEN UP.

Even "Father" Will Have Work To Do From Now On.

The long delayed handling of the 1910 tobacco crop is now on with a rush. The factory season starts two months late and will extend to July. The big factories have all opened with many hands and the busiest and most prosperous season of the year is at hand. It is estimated that good hands will from now on be paid an average of $16 a week in wages. The crop itself is expected to bring from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000. Yesterday morning by seven o'clock dozens of loaded wagons were lined up at the factories and the receipts at the loose floors were the heaviest of the season. Prices are still high and the demand for all grades is strong.

CAUGHT A BRIDE.

Miss Morosini, Worth $10,000,000 Weds Policeman.

New York, Jan. 15.—Announcement is made here of the marriage of Miss Guilda P. Morosini, daughter of the late Giovanni P. Morosini, a multimillionaire banker, to Arthur Werner. The groom a few months ago was a New York traffic policeman whose beat included the Harlem speedway.

While on duty one morning he espied a runaway team that was being driven by Miss Morosini. Werner stopped the horses at the risk of his life, but in the excitement he disappeared before Miss Morosini learned his name.

Her father, to show gratitude to the man who had saved his daughter from death, went to the speedway police station the next day with Miss Morosini, who picked out Werner from among the platoon of mounted men.

A short time after the runaway Werner received an invitation to call at the Morosini home. The acquaintance thus formed progressed rapidly and an engagement was announced a few days ago.

Miss Morosini was the chief legatee under her father's will, receiving an estate estimated at $10,000,000.

MOB LYNCHES THREE NEGROES

Shelbyville Has A Triple Lynching in Most Affirmed Style

Shelbyville, Ky., Jan. 15.—Fifty masked men this morning stormed the Shelby county jail here, seized and lynched three negroes, two of whom were charged with insulting white women and the third sentenced to hang for the murder of a negro woman and held awaiting his day of execution to be named.

Bodies of two of the negroes, Gene Marshall and Wade Patterson have been found, that of the third is still unaccounted for although he was seen in the hands of the mob with a rope about his neck. The third negro was Jim West.

Patterson it was charged, insulted two white women during the holidays and knocked both of them down. West's alleged crime was more recent and it is said he had often been seen throwing kisses at white women. He was a chauffeur. Marshall was sentenced to hang for beheading a negro woman more than a year ago.

The proposition to cut out the tobacco crop in the Burley district in 1911 indicates that there is to be more night riding in that section of the State. If lawyers' methods are again resorted to, night riding will become a live issue in state politics. If Democratic stump speakers denounce Gov. Wilson for suppressing night riders with state troops, it will make votes for the Republican ticket. There never would have been any considerable number organized of night riders if the strong hand of the law had been laid on the movement at the proper time. The Democratic candidate for Governor must be outspoken against night riding, or thousands of Democrats will not support the ticket.

The Pembroke Journal criticizes Judge J. H. Rose, the police judge, for attempting to use too much vigor in enforcing the new snow ordinance. Editor Hancock says Judge Rose is sued warrants and had about 30 citizens rounded up in his court for failing to clean off their sidewalks. If the law is a good one, why not enforce it?

Prof. Hugh C. Mitchell, an expert computer in the geodetic survey, says Peary went within a mile and one-sixth of the Pole. Well, that's near enough. You can go to Colorado without going to Pike's Peak.

Christian Church.

Rev. I. N. McCosh, L. L. D., preached Sunday morning and at night at the Ninth Street Christian church. He is one of the truly great preachers of the country. He was formerly pastor of what was at that time the most numerous and one of the most influential churches of the disciples in the world. He is noted as a writer, a teacher of theology and a leader of large organized activities.

He now resides at Cincinnati, Ohio, having in charge many important affairs of the brotherhood to which he belongs, such as the publication of certain tracts and of a religious magazine and the direction of the work of missionaries throughout the limited states. Dr. McCosh came to visit his friend, the pastor of the Ninth St. church, who ur- gently invited him to preach while here.

Escaped With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes, H. B. Martin, Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything, I could hear of, for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C. for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure. It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, and all bronchial affections. 50¢ & $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists."

ORDINANCE IS UPHELDBlackstone Club Tackles The Snow Ordinance.*IT IS CONSTITUTIONAL.*Animated Discussion Held Between Young Attorneys Thursday Night.

The Blackstone Club organized itself into a court Thursday night, with H. W. Linton as judge and heard legal arguments on a proposed act giving cities of the fourth class the right to compel property owners to remove snow from sidewalks, as follows:

Be it enacted by the general assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. That from and after the passage of this act, all cities of the fourth class in the Commonwealth of Kentucky shall have the power to pass any reasonable ordinances not in conflict with the provisions of this act to compel all property owners or occupants, owning or occupying any property abutting on any brick, concrete or improved pavements or sidewalks, to remove any snow from such sidewalks within five hours of daylight after such snow shall have ceased to fall.

This language is substantially the same as used in Ordinance No. 3, 1910, of Hopkinsville.

The constitutionality of the act was attacked by A. H. Clark, and defended by Pettus White.

Others who took part were John W. Venable and Geo. W. Lackey who sustained the position of Mr. White and J. S. Bassett backed up Mr. Clark, in short arguments. Judge Linton decided that the act would be constitutional.

The club decided to meet every two weeks hereafter, instead of every week.

Women's Greatest Trouble.

Big Sandy, Tenn.—Mrs. Lucy Cantrell, of this place, says: "Every two weeks, I had to go to bed and stay there several days. I suffered untold misery. Nothing seemed to help me, until I tried Cardui, the woman's tonic. Although I had been afflicted with womanly weaknesses for seven years, Cardui helped me more than anything else ever did. It is surely the best tonic for women on earth." Weakness is woman's greatest trouble. Cardui is woman's greatest medicine, because it overcomes that weakness and brings back strength. In the past 50 years, Cardui helped over a million women. Try it for your troubles, today.

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—All the local Chinese newspapers publish what perverts to be a message from Wu Ting Fang, late minister to the United States, announcing the date he has for the removal of his queue.

The date fixed is Jan. 30, on the Western calendar. On the day it is reported many local merchants will follow his example and celebrate the parting of their queues at a big banquet.

IN PRAISE OF FILIPINOS.

Correspondent of Ladies Weekly Tells of Their Endurance.

I was tremendously impressed with the adaptability of the Filipino laborers, and the fact that they make such efficient workmen, when properly trained. The manner in which these people take hold of things when they are given a fair chance is simply marvelous. I know one man who went to the Philippines 14 years ago and settled down among a tribe who lived in trees, ate fish and roots, and wore what clothing came handy. It was on a hardwood timber tract. Today these "Bicos," for that is the tribe to which they belong, live in nice homes, and have schools, churches, a brass band, a dance hall, and last, but not least, they are excellent lumbermen; they know all the varieties of trees and their value, and how to cut them. They have never left the cuttings, nor have they been affected by famine or pestilence, nor did they desert to join the insurrection. Six of these boys between the ages of 17 and 28, rowed me 200 miles along the coast of southern Luzon in four days without a stop. I don't believe the heaviest of them weighed over 130 pounds. They ate three good hearty meals a day of rice and fish, and at night, when the heavy life boat had been pulled upon the beach and turned over, they slept like logs under its shelter. At the end of the trip they seemed as fresh as at the beginning. For endurance, Mr. John Orr, who trained these boys, would match them against any crew in the world. They have defeated French, English, German, American, and Spanish sailors in boat races.—Hamilton Wright, in Leslie's Weekly.

AT EDEN'S CORNERS.

The gang were waiting for a new deck, when the ape burst in and somewhat excitedly exclaimed: "Say, you fellers know that there cat-lookin' geezer what lives up near the Eden musee?"

They all did.

"Well," continued the ape, "he's disappeared."

"Good," remarked the owl.

"Why?" asked the bunch, all at once.

"Why, I can now telegraph my friend Darwin that we have found at least one of the missing lynx," snickered the owl, but the telegraphic click between Darwin and one of the missing lynx missed because the gang failed to miss the owl. The game went on.—Toledo Blade.

PUBLIC POLICY.

The nabob of Peshwar had ordered a general advance in wages.

"But, your royal nibs," cried the employers, "we cannot afford this, making, as we do, dividends of scarce more than 100 per cent."

"Enough," said the nabob. "Your workmen now subsist on hay. My decree is that they be enabled to have, in addition, a weekly ration of corn."

So it was done, but with deep murmurings.—Philadelphia Ledger.

PRELIMINARY PRACTICE.

"Young friend Popley hasn't had his auto very long, but he seems to manage it very well. He seems particularly clever at steering through a crowded street."

"Oh, Popley's all right. He's had years of experience with a baby carriage."

EDGAR CAYCE
GIVES DIAGNOSIS

Hopkinsville Photographer's
Illustration of Strange Power.

USES HYPNOTIC SLEEP.

Then Describes Case in Medical Terms, Though He is Not a Physician.

Edgar Cayce, the young psychic diagnostician of Hopkinsville, gave an exhibition of his powers in Room 643 The Seelbach at 10:30 o'clock today, and made such a skillful analysis of the case of a man who was present that the latter went away thoroughly convinced that Cayce had read him through and through.

The man whose case was diagnosed is a well-known resident of Louisville, and had never seen Cayce until he came to his suite at the Seelbach today.

Mr. Cayce is a young man of mild manners and pleasing address. He admits that he has no knowledge of the source of his powers, which have attracted the attention of physicians all over the State, and says that he knows nothing whatever about medical science, anatomy or therapeutics. After reading a phonographic record of one of his diagnoses, Mr. Cayce shakes his head and smiles.

"That's all Greek to me," he says; "I haven't the least idea what all that talk means."

HOW CAYCE GIVES READING.

When the patient announced that he was ready for the diagnosis, Mr. Cayce pulled off his coat, collar and tie and laid down on a couch which had been prepared for him by placing two tables end to end and covering them with a cloth. He placed his hands behind his head, closed his eyes and sighed deeply. Then he opened his eyes again and looked at the ceiling. His gaze drew dreamily, and a light crept into his eyes that betokened the coming trance. There was no suggestion of outward influence upon him until he finally closed his eyes and began to breathe very deeply. Then his father stepped to his side and taking the tube and mouthpiece leading to a blank phonograph record on a machine which had been connected with the electric current, he said:

"You are now going to sleep. All of your organs are performing their functions. You are in perfect health and at ease." He paused for a few seconds and then said: "Now, you are asleep."

A stenographer who had been secured for the occasion now drew her desk to the side of Cayce's couch and prepared to take his diagnosis. The man who had come to be examined grew fidgety and shifted in his chair. There was an intense look in his eyes.

Mr. Cayce's father then said: "Now go over this man carefully from head to foot and tell us what is the matter with him, if anything." DIAGNOSIS GIVEN.

Mr. Cayce then began a technical description of the patient's symptoms, which would do justice to any physician in the land. He told him, in brief, that he was suffering from floating lesions of the spine, due to insufficient nutrition. He said that the patient experienced pains in the head, face, along the spinal column, and in the thigh. These pains, he said, were spasmodic, and were controlled in a measure, by the constitutional condition of the patient. He gave minute descriptions of the way in which lesions come about and the portions of the vertebrae affected.

When asked by his father if he could suggest a treatment, Mr. Cayce said that benefit would be derived from sodium phosphate, in moderate quantities, and strichnia. He also suggested electric treatment for the spine and massaging with the hands.

When he had concluded his diagnosis his father said:

"That patient has now disappeared. You will never see him again. In one minute and twenty seconds you will wake up."

Promptly to the second Mr. Cayce opened his eyes with a start, gazed

Nearly Smothered.

Chandler, N. C.—Mrs. Augusta Lomax, of this place, writes: "I had smothering spells every day, so bad that I expected death at any time. I could not sit up in bed. I suffered from womanly troubles. My nerves were unstrung. I had almost given up all hope of ever being better. I tried Cardui, and it did me more good than anything I had ever taken. I am better now than I ever expected to be." Thousands of ladies have written similar letters, telling of the merits of Cardui. It relieves their headache, backache and misery, just as it will relieve yours, if you will let it. Try.

widely about him for a moment, and then jumped from the couch.

When the phonograph record which had taken the diagnosis was repeated to him he smiled and said:

"I don't know where those things come from." —Post.

WHY BE SO WEAK

Kidney Troubles May Be
Sapping Your Life Away
—Hopkinsville People
Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, kidney weakness may be the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Can Hopkinsville readers demand further proof than the following statement:

Mrs. A. T. Lee, two miles from Elkhorn, Ky., says: "Kidney disease clung to me for some time. My back was racked with pain and I really did not have strength enough to move. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused me annoyance. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly advertised, my husband procured a box for me and I began their use. The first few doses brought relief and I continued using them until I was in good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

NO USE FOR WALKING STICK

Average American, in Hustle of Life,
Has No Time for Unnecessary Cargo.

Now that we are reminded of it, we realize that the great American people are seldom seen to possess a walking stick. "It's a small thing," writes an essayist in a morning paper, "the absence of the walking stick, but it belongs to the American motto, never, in the hustle of life, carry unnecessary cargo."

The idea is, of course, fantastic with the fantasy of transplanted common sense. The hustle of life surely extends to travel in the case of a nation which would consider itself degraded if it spent longer than a week in a complete journey through Europe; and when Americans travel they are the last to deny themselves the luxury of an extra bit of luggage because it happens to be unnecessary. It is common knowledge that they go on loading the liner with trunks until the company's officials say "Stop," it only to collect so many more steamship and hotel labels to add to their already bloated store of these trophies.

No. The walking stick is a matter purely of personal choice. Most Americans chance to feel no need for a walking stick whereas we do. That is how the thing stands. When it comes to a walking stick the world must be considered individually. The physical walking is quite likely to have a taste for a gigantic club; the enormously powerful man who snaps his Sandow developer before breakfast as though it were a piece of cotton may select for a walking stick the thinnest shred of malacca that money can buy.—London Globe.

Dyspepsia is our national ailment. Burdock Blood Bitter is the national cure for it. It strengthens stomach membranes promotes flow of digestive juices, purifies the blood, builds you up.

Pitiable Plight.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 14.—The family of G. W. Casey, living near Waterford, in Spencer County, was found in a pitiable plight as the result of an epidemic of measles in that section. In the one family eleven members are all ill. Mrs. Casey having contracted the disease while nursing her ten children.

When he had concluded his diagnosis his father said:

"That patient has now disappeared. You will never see him again. In one minute and twenty seconds you will wake up."

FOR KENTUCKY—Probably rain or snow and slightly warmer Tuesday.

State Fairs Change Dates.

The Ohio State Fair Association has changed its date to the week of August 23rd, and the Indiana State Fair Association have also changed their date from the week of September 11th to the week of September 4th. This leaves the week of September 11th for the Kentucky State Fair open and it is probable that the Kentucky State Board of Agriculture at the next meeting will change its date from the week of September 4th back to its original date of the week of September 11, which would not now conflict with the date of the Indiana State Fair.—Farmers Home Journal.

Georgia Prosperous.

Georgia's municipalities having a population in excess of 5,000 made an average increase of over 48 per cent during the last ten years. Statistics of the thirteenth census issued today indicate that they contributed 39 per cent of the state's total increase in population of 392,790. This leaves 61 per cent as the part of the increase contributed by the rural districts.

The number of cities in 1900 having more than 5,000 people was thirteen, while today's figures show twenty-three, an increase of ten. Not a single decrease in population is shown in the list.

Convict Draws Pension.

John Halderman, convicted for horse stealing in Hickman county and sentenced for two years, this week received voucher for $674.80 as back pay for services in the Philippine war and a notice of a life pension for six dollars per month.

Halderman's check was net, his lawyer's fees and other expenses having been deducted, otherwise it would have been greater, as he was allowed six dollars a month since May, 1901. His time here expires in May, 1912.—Eddyville Herald.

Arkansas Launched.

The battleship Arkansas, the largest fighting ship ever constructed in this country, was launched from the New York Shipbuilding Company at Camden, N. J., Saturday. Mary Macon, daughter of Congressman Robert B. Macon, of Arkansas, was the sponsor and smashed a bottle of champagne against the great prow of the ship as it slid away from her.

Gov. Donaghay, complained that he was ignored and declined to take part in the ceremony. The ship is expected to be finished in 16 months.

Is Stricken Blind.

Glasgow, Ky., Jan. 15.—M. E. Smith, a distiller of Cumberland county, and one of the most widely known men in Southern Kentucky, was stricken blind on Monday last, since which time he has been in a critical condition.

A specialist from Louisville is attending him and he is now confined in a darkened room, but he is still totally blind and his family are greatly alarmed concerning his condition.

Eleven Years Ago.

Upon motion of Commonwealth's Attorney, Robert B. Franklin, the indictments against William Culton were dismissed in Circuit Court at Frankfort. Those were the last of the indictments left on the docket of all those indicted for complicity in the assassination of Governor Goebel, the others all having been paraded or acquitted.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars in case that it fails to cure. Send or telegraph.

The appointee will hold until his successor is elected next November. He was principal of the Shermanville High School several years ago, and is a progressive school man.

Harrisburg's Good Showing.

Harrisburg, Ill., the little city in the K. I. T. League, has 5,309 population under the new census, having increased from 2,202 in 1900, a gain of 241 per cent. The Register says the suburbs have 2,500 more and that the census was taken during the dull times caused by a strike in the mines.

JAPAN NOT NOW WARLIKE

Recent Observers Say the Young Men of the Country Dislike Military Life and Lack Energy.

The importance of Japan as an active factor in international relationships has rested largely on outside belief in the wide prevalence of the martial spirit and on the assumption that the military ardor of the Japanese was a constant quantity. What Japan has done, Japan stood ready to do again. What Russia had felt from that quarter, some other people might feel in turn. But recent observers of Japanese life report a considerable change in the attitude of the young men of Japan toward military service. They are said to lack the energy and grit of the previous generation, and to welcome escape from conscription when possible. The youth of today do not hesitate to express openly their dislike for the military life. In some of the higher schools the number of students in actual attendance is much lower than the number registered, the assumption being that many have enrolled themselves merely to escape conscription. Japan has been through her national agony and has established herself. She knows what war is and would not soon go through such an ordeal for a second time. An adequate motive would be found only in a struggle for national preservation.

WISE COUNTRYMEN

Mrs. Cornetts—Here is a letter from Cousin John, whose family was visiting us the whole summer.

Mr. Cornetts—I reckon that they've moved into a flat and can't entertain us this winter.

ROOSEVELT'S LITTLE JOKE.

When Roosevelt returned from his first inauguration two bright, nice looking children were waiting for him just inside the White House grounds. Each carried a camera and aimed it squarely at the new president as soon as he came in sight.

He raised his hat to them, but said in stern voice, "I'm going to have the officers put you out of here."

Several of the guards who accompanied him were men from out of town. They were tired and nervous after the hard day's work and started forward at once upon hearing the president's words.

One of them seized the little girl roughly and another seized the boy, but before they could be hustled away the president conquered his laughter enough to say, "Never mind. You needn't arrest them. They are my own children."

Ethel and Archie Roosevelt were merely having a little fun with their father.—Christian Herald.

LITTLE DARKIES.

At birth a negro child is of a reddish, nutbrown color, which turns to a slate-gray in the first week of the child's existence. The black color is not fully developed for a period varying from one to three years, according to the nature of the locality and the influences of the climate.

Darwin says that the children of Australians, immediately after birth, are yellowish-brown, and become darker at a later age. Those of the Guarani of Paraguay are whitish yellow, but they acquire in the course of a few weeks the yellowish brown tint of their parents. It is curious to notice that the eyes of a negro child are blue at birth, and his hair of a dark chestnut color, being curled at the ends.

FAITH.

Never pin your faith to a woman who says she will be ready in five minutes—and is!—Life.

CARE OF THE FLOORS

VARIOUS SUBSTANCES MAY BE USED FOR POLISHING THEM.

Water Should Be Employed Sparingly, As It Will Cause the Wood to Expand—Oil and Wax Considered the Best.

If one has been so fortunate as to secure a hardwood floor, the intelligent care of it becomes a very important matter and one which is not particularly difficult if a little thought and attention are given to the subject. Various materials are employed for this purpose, but the processes are all similar, namely, that of rubbing the surface with some sort of an oil or wax. In general, it is a safe rule never to apply water to the surface of a nice floor, at least not in sufficient quantities to wet the fiber of the wood to any extent, because all wood, even oak, is susceptible to moisture and to the extent to which the fibers expand they will dry afterwards and gradually cracks will appear in the boards. If something has been spilled on the floor so that it is absolutely necessary to wash it, this should be done with a cloth wrung out of water. For the most part, however, oil and wax in some form are the proper cleaning and polishing mediums. It is said that equal parts of sweet oil, turpentine and vinegar, well mixed and well rubbed into the floor with cotton or woolen rags, is a highly successful method of treating a polished oak floor. The acid in the vinegar cuts the dirt and grime that works into it from shoes, the sweet oil gives a luster and the turpentine dries it. There are any number of articles on the market that are advertised for this purpose, and some of them are very effective. In testing any new brand of wax or other application, it is well to try it first of all on a small portion of the floor in some inconspicuous part of the room. A weighted brush is a great advantage, though more or less expensive. A piece of plank covered with Brussels carpet is not a bad substitute.

The above-named mixture does not need to be applied to the floor often than once a month, and about once a year a coat of good floor wax should be well rubbed into the floor. The application of varnish to a hard wood floor is a modern method of finishing. The old-time method being that of rubbing them with wax, and a very beautiful surface may be thus produced, provided the floor has first had a thorough coating with a paste filler which fills up every pore and crack and makes a perfectly smooth surface.

Metallic Trimmings.

Gold and silver are used lavishly in all forms of trimming—buttons, passementeries, applique embroidery, laces, etc., but, as a rule, these metallic trimmings are in the soft, dull tones and achieve richness and beauty without being garish or barbaric. There are beautiful heavy silver and gold laces, crocheted by hand after the fashion of the Irish lace, and others fine and thin as spider web. Deep lace flouncing, with gold or silver net top is made with enough to form an entire skirt, and the chantilly and alencon meshes and designs are cleverly reproduced.

Fried Egg Plant.

One egg plant, two eggs, half a cup of milk, flour for thin batter, salt and fat for frying. Slice and pare each slice. Lay in salt and water one hour; dry between two towels and dip each slice in a batter made of the materials above given. Fry in hot fat to a good brown. Drain well, put a spoon of grape jelly on each slice after serving, if liked.

Marguerites.

Beat two eggs slightly. Add one cup brown sugar, one-half cup flour mixed with one-fourth teaspoon baking powder, one-third teaspoon salt, one cup pecan nut meats, cut in small pieces. Fill small buttered tins two-thirds full of mixture and place pecan nut meats on each. Bake in a moderate oven 15 minutes.

To Hang Out the Winter Washing.

A good way to save yourself and handkerchiefs in freezing weather is to get a line long enough for the amount you have in wash, pin handkerchiefs on line while in the laundry, carry line on yard, and hang on hooks. When dry take line from hooks, carry to laundry and remove clothespins.

Scrambled Mutton.

Two cups of chopped cold mutton, two tablespoonsfuls of hot water and a piece of butter as large as an English walnut. When the meat is hot, break in three eggs and constantly stir until the eggs begin to stiffen. Season with pepper and salt.

Cabbage.

Shave the cabbage, soak it in cold salted water for half an hour, put on the fire in a large kettle of boiling salted water and keep at a galloping boil for 30 minutes. Drain, pressing out all the water and turn lightly into a hot dish.

Grilled Sardines.

Grilled sardines for supper are easily prepared by removing sardines from the cans and heating them in a chafing dish or the blazer of a chafing dish over hot on crackers.

GOOD READING FOR AUTUMN

Ten Commandments, The Constitution and Mother Goose's Rhymes Are Especially Recommended

The Ten Commandments: These classical epigrams, published in Siam before the enactment of the copyright law and forming the principal mental sustenance of our forefathers, have latterly been neglected in the tremendous rush for Thomas W. Lawson and Mrs. Glyn. A booklet which should have the widest and most thoughtful reading in such centers as New York, Pittsburg, Albany, San Francisco, Reno and Newport.

The Constitution: Another old-time favorite fallen into disregard. Still among the most-called-for in Oklahoma, however, where a revised edition, containing an enormous and miscellaneous amount of wholly new matter, with anti-administration glossary and table of dimensions for hotel dinner cloths and bed sheets, has been published.

Mother Goose's Rhymes: This collection of the elementary gems of English poetry is especially recommended for perusal and study by poet laureates, who will find the simplified forms here presented conducive to a truer rhythm, deeper meaning and all around better verse. Mr. Kipling also might well dip into these pages before exploding another "Burial Ode."

DO NOT RESIST SLEEPINESS

It Is Nature's Signal to Stop Work and Should Be Obeyed if Circumstances Permit.

Sleepiness, as a rule, should not be resisted. Remember it is nature's signal to stop work. If we continue in spite of the tired drag the quality of work is poor and the exhaustion is extreme and out of all proportion to the work turned out. Many do all sorts of things to burn the midnight oil, when if they would only go to bed and sleep they could accomplish twice as much in the morning with little or no fatigue. Certainly there are times when tire and sleepiness must be overcome, and that, too, without resort to stimulants which hurt the judgment, as in the case of the midnight surgeon and obstetrician. It is best then to go to the open window every 15 or so minutes and take a dozen or two deep breaths of cold air. The tire in the end may be great, but this is the best pick-me-up; besides, it will in no way interfere, but rather will help perfect blissful sleep when its time comes.

OVERHEARD.

"And while I was down there in the slums I saw a woman feeding candy to a baby that looked as if it were painted."

"The cutest little boy was climbing a tree with overalls on."

"I told John we ought to have oysters for company on the half shell."

"He gave her the coffee while she was waiting at the counter in a tin can."

"A big, fat man rode by on a skittish horse with a red nose that was scared of the trolley cars."

"I just love to see the soldiers with their guns in khaki suits, don't you?"

"I don't know his name, but he was the lawyer what sat next to the lady in black with long side whiskers and a white necktie."

"He is the man that sells lace with such big red hands and a lisp."

FIGHT TO THE DEATH.

A funeral procession was wending its way through an English colliery village recently as a fight between two miners was in progress. As the funeral procession drew near them they ceased fighting, and stood to one side to allow the procession to pass. As the hearse was passing in front of the combatants, one of them seized an underbearer by the arm, and pointing to the driver of the hearse he said in a loud voice:

"Ah say, mister, tell that putter to mak' sharp back, and Ah'll fill her up again for 'im."

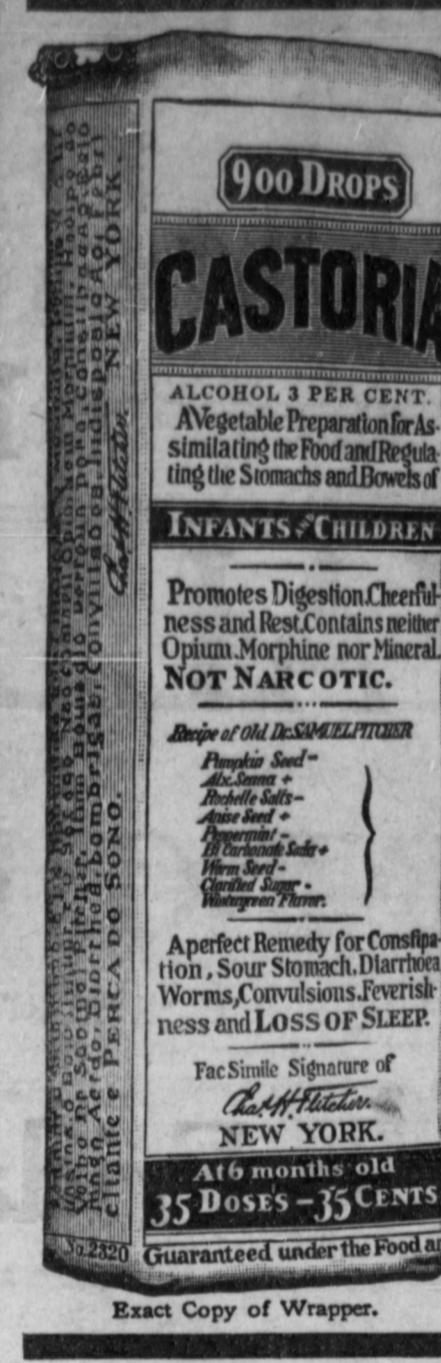

His antagonist immediately put on his coat and disappeared.

Who Was There That You Knew?

In the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

They were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 30 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector, J. Pierpont Morgan tried to secure the collection. Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—but with the help of the Review of Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered in 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at least the value of one of the photographs.

It is an accurate, impartial history of the Civil War for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.

TO KEEP SILVER BRIGHT

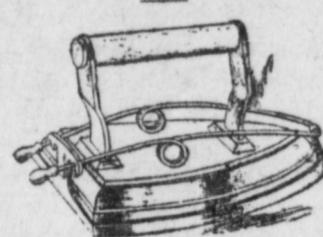

Polish Well Once a Week, Keep in Drawers Lined With Chamois or Flannel.

All household silver needs careful attention, and to keep it in good condition the housewife must sacrifice considerable of her time. When teaching an inexperienced maid her duties in the household the mistress should specially stipulate that the silver should be cleaned at least once in each week, and that a list of all the pieces should be kept on a hook in the pantry. After the thorough cleansing of all the pieces they should be counted and checked off with the list on the hook.

Under no conditions should any silver be allowed to remain out in the pantry at night, unless there is a special place for it. Each housewife usually has a method of her own for cleansing the silver. A good polish, free from all sorts of grit and dirt, is the best thing that can be used. This can be rubbed on with a soft cloth and the polishing done later with a chamois. Where engraved pieces are cleaned great care is necessary to get all the polish from the creases and crevices, where it is most likely to lodge.

One solution of the problem of taking care of silverware when it is not in use has been effective. A cupboard is built under the pantry shelves and compartments made for the separate pieces. A shelf the length of the cupboard is placed a little higher than the center, thus leaving the lower portion for larger pieces. Both shelf and bottom are covered with thick red flannel, and, in order that dust may not gather, there is a separate flooring, as it were, under the flannel. This permits it being taken out and thoroughly brushed. The upper shelf is divided into boxlike sections, in which the small pieces fit easily. It requires less than five minutes to put away everything, and no longer to take them out in the morning. Chamois is a good lining for drawers where silver is kept.

OLD FLATIRONS MADE NEW

A shoe of thin nickled steel, which can be attached to any old flatiron is here illustrated. The old iron, it makes no difference how worn and rough, is first heated over the fire and then the shoe is slipped on, the spring attachment holding it solidly in position.—Popular Mechanics.

Beauty in Kitchen.
Considering how easy it is to look pretty when engaged in household labor, it is strange that so few women attain this result. A properly cut princess apron in a becoming color is not only as pretty a garment as any woman could wish for, but it throws a wonderful halo of domesticity and femininity about her. Yet women will sacrifice its possibilities for the kimono, which, while a pretty little affair in its place, cannot retain any prettiness at all after being worn a while in the kitchen.

A dusting cap, too, may be a thing of beauty, says the Montreal Herald. Caps that recall Dutch pictures may be bought, and worn with a pretty apron, they give a subtle charm to the plainest woman.

The rest of the working costume should consist of a short skirt and shirtwaist. The latter can be low in the neck and short in the sleeves, and worn with a fascinating Dutch collar, may be as becoming as any ball gown.

Savory Stew.

Place some chopped vegetables of all kinds in a frying pan and cook in a little butter till soft and browned. Then put them in a stew pan and cover with stock water. Cook for an hour, adding chopped parsley, pepper and salt. Press all through a sieve, thicken with brown flour and boil five minutes, stirring well. Let it get cold. Cut slices of meat, freed from skin and fat, and put in the gravy, simmering slowly for half an hour; serve very hot, with a garnish of beets, chopped capers or fried onions scattered over.

Stewed Celery.

Wash and clean six or eight heads of celery; cut about an inch long; boil until tender; pour off the water; mix through a white sauce made as follows: Heat half-pint of milk; when hot add one tablespoonful of flour and the same of butter mixed to a smooth paste; stir this into the hot milk; season with pepper and salt and allow to stand in the back of the fire for five minutes, then stir into the celery.

Pickled Beets.

Boil small beets in salt water, till tender; fill a can with them. Pour hot vinegar in which has been dissolved a little mustard, allspice and cinnamon; seal while hot. Fine for making beet salad or as a garnish for other kinds of salads in winter.

Cauliflower.

Boil a fine cauliflower in hot salted water, drain, put in a deep dish, blossom upward, and pour over it a cup of rich drawn butter, with the juice of one-half a lemon stirred in.

RECIPE FOR FRIED CHICKEN

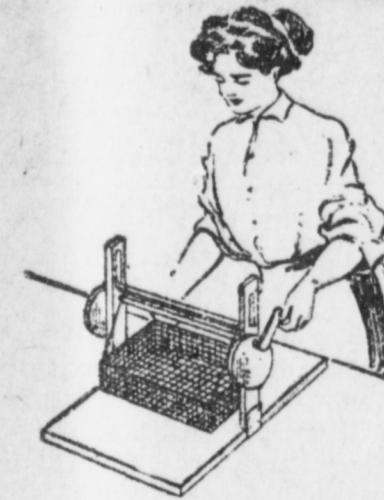

Southern Style Delicious—Fry Joints In Fat of Bacon and Dip In Cream and Flour.

One chicken, $\frac{1}{2}$ pound sliced bacon, two eggs, $\frac{1}{2}$ cupfuls of milk or thin cream, flour, salt and pepper. For good results choose a tender spring chicken, clean it and cut it at the joints, then let it stand in strong salt water for a few minutes, and after draining it, wipe it dry; fry the bacon and beat an egg until light; rub each piece of chicken with the salt and pepper, using a heaping teaspoonful of salt to a dash of pepper to each two pounds of fowl; dip the chicken in the beaten egg and then in flour until covered, remove the fried bacon to a hot platter and put the chicken in the hot fat; brown well on all sides, then cover the skillet and cook slowly until tender, turning occasionally; put the chicken on the platter with the bacon, add a tablespoonful of flour to the fat, a dash of salt, milk or cream, and finally the yolk of the remaining egg mixed with a tablespoonful of cream; when thick, serve with the chicken and bacon on the platter. If you wish to follow the southern style don't fail to have cold boiled ham, some boiled rice and hot biscuits or corn bread to go with the chicken.

NEW DISH-WASHING DEVICE

Articles Are Swirled Around In Water In Wire Basket, and Thoroughly Cleaned.

A simple form of dish-washing machine that a handy man can make at home has been invented by a Minnesota woman. It is designed primarily for use in hotels and restaurants, where the dishes are too numerous to be washed by hand, but it will be found a useful article in large households. The apparatus consists of a base board with two upright posts in the center of either side. These posts have a rotatable shaft passing through them with an eccentric wheel on each end and a crank to turn it. Just above this are slots to receive a cross bar and guide its upward and downward movement, and a wire basket is slung on this cross bar. The machine is placed in sink or tub full of hot water and the basket filled with dishes. The crank is then turned; and as the eccentric wheels revolve they raise and lower the cross bar resting on them and thus raise and lower the basket, with the result that the dishes are thoroughly rinsed by the water, which should be kept hot enough to clean them thoroughly.

German Apple Cake.

Mix together and sift a pint of flour, a half teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of baking powder; rub in two tablespoonsfuls of butter, then mix to a soft dough or very thick batter with one beaten egg and about half a cupful of milk. Turn this into a shallow, well-greased pan and press partly into it quartered and peeled apples, arranging them in regular circles or rows according to the shape of the pan. Sprinkle them with three tablespoonsfuls of granulated sugar mixed with a third of a teaspoonful of cinnamon, bake in a hot oven and serve hot with cream.

To Clean a Black Skirt.

It is possible to clean a black skirt with very little trouble. Lay it flatly on a clean table. Remove all grease spots with brown paper and a hot iron, then with a sponge dipped in strong coffee rub over the entire dress, paying special attention to the front and edge of the skirt. After the whole of the skirt has been sponged and while it is still damp, iron on the wrong side until perfectly dry.

Green Tomato Soy a Relish.

Slice without peeling one gallon of green tomatoes and six large onions. Add one quart of vinegar, one pound sugar, one tablespoonful each salt and ground mustard, one teaspoonful each ground cloves and allspice and cook gently together until the vegetables are tender. Protect from violent heat while cooking by putting an asbestos mat under the kettle. Pack in small glass jars and seal.

Swiss Soup.

Five gallons of water, six potatoes and three turnips, sliced, a small piece of salt pork, boil five hours until perfectly dissolved and the consistency of pea soup, filling up as it boils away. Instead of the pork, you can add butter the size of an egg. Season with salt and pepper and serve.

Cabbage Salad.

Shred a white cabbage fine and pour over it a dressing such as you make for cold soup or French dressing with a little made mustard beaten in.

FRIDAY THE 13TH.

Some Of The Happenings On The Unlucky Day.

Twelve persons were drowned in the wreck of the German steamer Marinaruss, off Norden.

At Newcastle, Pa., Mrs. Thos. Pritchard killed herself and her husband in a family quarrel.

Mrs. Jane Patrick Southerlin died at Danville, Va., at her home known as the last Capital of the Confederacy.

Henry Burr Barnes, president of the publishing firm of S. Barnes & Co., and director of the American Book Company, died in New York.

Arpad Goczel, whose foreign bank suspended in Pittsburg, sent a bullet through his brain.

Five men were killed, two probably fatally injured and more than a score seriously hurt in the wreck of the Western Express and the Boston and Buffalo Special, both west-bound, on the New York Central, at Batavia, N. Y.

Miss Maude Edgington, aged 25 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Edgington, committed suicide at Madisonville by drinking the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid. Despondency over a form of rheumatism in her left arm which prevented her from playing on the piano is said to be the cause for her act.

Miss Jessie Schieves, a telephone girl, was perhaps fatally burned while kindling her fire with oil at Richland City, Ind.

Three "big girls" knocked down and beat their teacher, in a Hancock county school. The trouble started over the girls making fun of their teacher because she kissed her new husband goodbye at the door.

Earl Hobbs, aged 13, was killed by a car at Columbus, Ind.

Two thousand dollars in currency, shipped to Tennyson, Ind., by the Citizens' National Bank, Evansville, by way of the Southern Express Company, has disappeared.

Bert McNutt, aged 38, was killed by a train at Covington.

Tom Kilgore killed one man and wounded another with a pick, at Middlesboro.

Kill More Than Wild Beasts.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. But grand protection is afforded by Electric Bitters, which destroy and expel these deadly disease germs from the system. That's why chills, fever andague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. Growing Out Of Fulton Prohibition Fight.

Attorney James C. Cheek, Jr., is busy taking deposition in this city in the interest of the plaintiff in the suit of Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church, against the Fulton Leader and about 30 well known business men of Fulton, who are alleged to have made slanderous remarks against the preacher during the "wet" and "dry" election at Fulton last July.

The case will come up for trial in a few days at Fulton. Attorney Will Webb, of Mayfield, is chief council for Mr. Dodd. The petition asks for $20,000 as the proper amount due the preacher because of the publication.—Paducah News Democrat.

Ends Winter's Troubles.

To many, winter is a season of trouble. The frost-bitten toes and fingers, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold-sores, red and rough skins, prove this. REWARD FOR PEARY.

He Will Be Elevated To The Rank Of Rear Admiral.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The Bates bill providing for the elevation of Capt. Robert E. Peary to the rank of Rear Admiral in recognition of his attainment of the North Pole, was reported favorably to the House by the Committee on Naval Affairs. The vote of the committee thus to report was unanimous, though Messrs. Robert and Macon, who have opposed Peary, were not present.

If the bill becomes a law, Capt. Peary will receive the thanks of Congress for his Arctic discoveries, and will be retired with the rank and retired pay of a rear admiral. The retirement would date from April 6, 1909, the date on which Peary reached the Pole.

The bill differs from the bill which already has passed the Senate, in that the Senate bill gave him the rank of rear admiral of the line and carried no thanks of Congress.
